ESTATE OF VICTIM TO PAY FOR APPEAL

Record Expense of Leech Trial Will Be Met by Kohlberg Estate.

Rather than have the court stenographer prepare the appeal papers in the John Leech case without pay, the E. Kohlberg estate has informed W. H. Fryer, stenographer in the 34th district court, that the expenses of preparing the record would be paid by the estate. When Leech filed notice of appeal, he made an oath that he was a pauper and unable to pay the costs of the stenographic records. This was said to have been a move of the convicted man's attorneys to get a new trial on the ground that the records in the case could not be secured. The official stenographer consented, however, to make the records for nothing. Hearing of this, the representatives of the Kohlberg estate have arranged to pay him in full for his work.

FREDERICK WARDE AND COMPANY.

Lovers of Shakespeare enjoyed a treat at the El Paso theater Monday night and those who did not get to see Frederick Warde and company in "Julius Caesar" have another chance tonight. The company is a very capable one, in fact even those cast in the minor roles are better than the average with the big Shakespearean companies, while Mr. Warde's ability is known the country over, and he is very strongly supported in his son, Ernest, and his protegee, Andrew Rogers, in the respective roles of Cassius and Marc Antony.

Mr. Warde himself in the role of Brutus can only be described as "excellent" or "splendid," while his two pupils readily share honors with their tutor. Young Warde may perhaps be criticised for being a bit over dramatic, but he has a good voice and reads his lines generally clearly and distinctly. While Young Rogers is suffering from a cold, but even at that, his reading was good and his gestures and facial expression accompanying his oration over the dead body of Caesar, seemed perfect. He won high praise from many who witnessed the production Monday night.

Mr. Warde himself is preeminently the greatest Shakespearean scholar and exponent of the Booth-Barrett school of acting of any actor in this country—perhaps of any living actor—and his friends and admirers are always sure of a good production and a careful reading when he is seen in the cast. While his platform lectures for the past eight years have been enjoyed to their fullest, the American public is glad again to have him back on the stage at the head of his own company.

The company carries its own special scenery and all of it is appropriate and carefully prepared.

"MRS. WIGGS OF CABBAGE PATCH." "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," comes to the El Paso theater Thursday and Friday nights. As a dramatic offering it is proof, if further evidence were wanting, that "there are as good fish in the sea of humanity, as ever were caught." The dramatization of the book that was written concerning the heroine of the Cabbage Patch has a distinct and unmistakable touch of originality. There will be a special matinee Friday. Seats are now selling.

AT THE CRAWFORD. The Big Bill Hittner stock company will reopen the Crawford theater starting Sunday, December 25, in Wm. Crane's success, "Father and the Boys." With a special Christmas matinee Sunday at 2:30. The Crawford prices are 15c, 25c and 35c. Seats go on sale Thursday.

SPLendid MUSICAL ATTRACTION. Billy Clifford in "The Girl and the Game," will be the Christmas attraction at the El Paso, December 25 and 26. Seats go on sale Friday. This attraction was playing at the Pueblo opera house when the El Paso delegation was attending the Irrigation congress and if anyone doubts whether it is good or not, an inquiry of Joe Polard, Garnett King, Charlie Kline, Walter Clayton or Dick Warren will bring the correct information. They lagged till their sides were sore.

THE MAJESTIC. "The best vaudeville bill ever seen in El Paso is on at the Majestic tonight. Five big acts," says manager Frank Rich.

FOUR EXTRA CLERKS. Misses May Rick and Gertrude E. Dow and Messrs. W. A. Schick and J. L. Kale have been employed as extra clerks during the holiday rush at the postoffice.

PAVE TO THE CANAL. The Bitulithic paving operations have extended to the canal on Stanton street. The paving crew will be transferred to West Missouri street as soon as the street car tracks and water service pipes are in place.

Big Plant Burns. Shelby, O., Dec. 20.—The plant of the Brightman Manufacturing company was destroyed by fire last night. The plant was valued at $150,000. The fire originated in the offices.

JULIUS CAESAR HAS NEW THRONE

Frederick Warde Is Grandpa More Than Once; Did You Know That?

Julius Caesar is to have a new throne cover. Mrs. Frederick Warde, who came on from Brooklyn to spend the holidays with her husband, did not like the arrangement of Julius's throne, with all due respect to her eminent husband, so she decided that he must have a new one. And she is spending her spare time while Mr. Warde is lecturing to school children in the day and elevating the stage at night, making a new cover for the august Roman's throne.

Mr. and Mrs. Warde, who are grandparents—the handsome Brutus is a grandfather several times—are very busy these days getting things ready for Christmas. Their eldest son, Arthur, who is with them as business manager for Mr. Warde, has a son back in Cornell, who is 14 years of age; and Ernest, who is a member of the company, has a little daughter at home eight years of age. Then there are two daughters who are married and living back in Brooklyn, so that the grandparents have a lot of people to make happy for Christmas and they have been busy and happy sending things back east for Santa Claus.

The company will spend Christmas and Friday and Saturday preceding, resting at Albuquerque, en route to Kansas City and Denver. Today Mr. Warde lectured for over an hour to the high school boys and girls on Shakespeare and his works, a lecture which the children deeply enjoyed and which the faculty appreciated. As a lecturer, Frederick Warde is not even second to Frederick Warde, the actor.

HOPKINS CHOSEN FOR CITY CLERK

Tucumcari, N. M., Dec. 20.—S. T. Hopkins has been appointed to fill the vacancy in the office of city clerk, the former clerk, J. R. Daugherty having moved to El Paso and gone into business. The contract for city printing was also given to Mr. Hopkins as representative of the Sun printing company.

The city council has passed an ordinance changing the fire limits. An effort is to be made to limit the number of saloons to nine, this being the number at present in the city.

The county on wild animals is rapidly reducing their numbers in this section. Pelts worth $25 were brought in by one man, and $125 by another. The pelts were mostly those of coyotes. A few wolves yet remain in the broken portions of the county.

The paint store of T. S. Chappel has been removed, to the store room east of the Eagle cornice works.

The law firm of Moore and Mayes has been dissolved.

Claud Hupertz, local claim agent for the E. P. & S. W. road, and Miss Clara Pollock were married at the Presbyterian parsonage by the Rev. J. J. Dalton. They will live on East Turner street.

The six-year-old son of A. D. Goldenberg, who has been ill with pneumonia, is recovering.

A representative of a large eastern sanitarium is in Tucumcari seeking to interest local citizens in the establishment of a sanitarium in this city, but it is understood that he has not had the proper encouragement and will undoubtedly go elsewhere in his plans. Tucumcari not taking kindly to health resort ideas.

HOW TO HANDLE HIGH EXPLOSIVES

Railroad Men and Shippers Are Given Expert Advice.

How to prevent accidents in transporting explosives, both on the railroad men's and on the shippers' part, was what local railroaders and shippers heard Monday night at the Y. M. C. A. Capt. G. E. Carleton, assistant chief inspector of the bureau of explosives, lectured, making the second talk in this city in the campaign of education in this important matter which the American Railway association is pursuing.

Capt. Carleton, a former regular army man, dwelt largely on the technical side of the question, devoting much of his time in explaining the meaning of the regulations on the transporting of explosives or any inflammable. The law is enforced by the interstate commerce commission, and traces the blame of accidents from the railway employee to the shipper, according to the causes. It is the railway association, a national organization of railways, which is carrying on this extensive work of education and actual prevention, through lecturers and inspectors.

In 1906, just before the bureau was organized, 78 persons were killed that year through the careless handling of explosives," said Capt. Carleton. "In 1907, 52 were killed, 26 in 1908, two in 1909, and this year there has not been a single fatality recorded. In 1906 the property loss in two explosions alone was $722,000. In 1909 the property loss was $8000.

"An inspector visits the magazine of any hardware establishment, or firm handling explosives, and should find that some of the dynamite on hand is not in proper condition for shipment, the owner is notified; a description of the packing cases and their numbers is supplied to the local railroads and all are notified that the explosive cannot be shipped. Any violation of this would result in a fine of $2000, or imprisonment for 18 months, or both, for those individuals concerned.

MANY PRISONERS TO BE SENTENCED AT ROSWELL. Roswell, N. M., Dec. 20.—Twenty-two men and boys, convicted of various crimes at the present term of district court, are to be sentenced by Judge Pope, 14 of them being in the temporary jail, built for use while the new one is going up. The jail is so crowded that it is difficult to watch all the prisoners, and it was discovered a day or two ago that some of them had broken up a bunk and used the pieces to make a small hole through one of the walls.

Found guilty of violating the livestock law, in keeping a shipment of goats from Arizona, the cars 28 hours or more without rest, the Santa Fe railroad company has been fined $100 and costs by Judge Pope. Clovis is alleged to have been the point at which the offense was committed. The following officers have been elected for the ensuing year by Columbia Chapter No. 7, Rayol Arch Masons: J. C. Hamilton, high priest; Lucius Dills, king; J. S. Lea, scribe; John W. Roe, treasurer; W. H. Cosgrove, secretary. The appointive officers will be announced later. J. W. Vanwinkle has sold 722 goats to Bernard Clevé for $593.56.
